

FOUND IN NATURE

ABOUT

Our personal collections give us an insight into social customs, values and norms. You can tell a lot about a person from not only what they throw away but what they choose to keep.

AMASS is a museum dedicated to displaying personal collections in a public atmosphere. Our permanent collections include items from notorious celebrities to items your grandmother might have stacked up in her basement. Our temporary exhibits display artwork focused on collections.

Barbie Trashes Her Dreamhouse, 2010

